of 486 m², which contains green areas, several olive trees and a spacious terrace ideal for relaxing outdoors.

This property has an energy certificate B, which confirms its energy efficiency.

Central gas underfloor heating, which includes seven radiators, ensures comfortable warmth in the winter months, while a gas boiler provides additional functionality. A wood-burning fireplace adds a special atmosphere to the living room, and a biological pit is an environmentally sustainable solution for drainage. The terrace and surroundings are the perfect place to enjoy the peaceful surroundings and the view of nature.

This house is ideal for family life, vacation or as an investment for tourist rental thanks to its attractive location and practical layout. It is located in a quiet village, yet close to all important amenities.

Don't miss this opportunity!
